Embark on Immersive Experience

The capital city, Kathmandu is rich with temples more than homes and festivals exceeding the number of days in a year. The valley boasts of 7 Cultural UNESCO World Heritage Sites the Kathmandu Valley blends with ancient cultural traditions and a fast-growing metropolis. As the administrative and cultural capital of the country, the Valley with its three Durbar Squares - Kathmandu, Patan and Bhaktapur and centers of a mix of Hindu and Buddhist religious faith has always attracted people from all over the world.

Kathmandu, Patan and Bhaktapur along with other smaller towns like Kirtipur, Panauti and Sanga take you back in time with their ancient pagodas, narrow cobbled lanes, old carved windows, and stone shrines in the backdrops to rich cultural life that continues unhindered. Here the experiences are amazing, with fascinating views and pleasant weather.

In the valley, there are living Goddesses whose smiles are a benediction. There are reincarnate Lamas who foresee the future with a roll of dice and scriptural reference. There are walks that lead the adventurous to legendary places where ogres once lived. There are hidden gardens behind palaces yet unseen and courtyards where miracles happen, and a city the Buddha visited.

Bewitched by Pokhara

The natural beauty of Pokhara in Midwestern Nepal is simply bewitching. Forming the backdrop is the spectacular Annapurna range with the magnificent fish-tailed mountain Machhapuchhre dominating the scene. Adding to Pokhara's enchantment are the three serene lakes of Phewa, Rupa and Begnas.

Spiritual Bliss in Lumbini

Lumbini, in the southwest, is the birthplace of Lord Buddha and a World Heritage Site. An inscription on the Ashoka Pillar identifies the Sacred Garden as the place where the Buddha was born. Lumbini has a number of artistic temples and monasteries built through international support.

Chitwan: Richness in Biodiversity

UNESCO calls Chitwan as one of the few remaining undisturbed vestiges of the 'Terai' region, which formerly extended over the foothills of India and Nepal at the foot of the Himalayas. The Chitwan National Park has been enlisted as a World Heritage Site. It has a particularly rich flora and fauna. One of the last populations of the One-horned Asiatic Rhinoceros lives in the park, which is also one of the last refuges of the Royal Bengal Tiger.

Festival Tours

Most of the festivals celebrated in Nepal have religious significance. The dates of most festivals are fixed by famous astrologers after consulting the lunar calendar. The biggest and most popular festivals are: Dashain, a celebration of Goddess Bhagawati's victory over evil Mahisashur; and Tihar, a celebration of lights dedicated to Goddess Laxmi.

Trekking & Hiking

Trekking and Hiking in Nepal has proven to be one of the most unique ways to visit and explore the country by meeting its people in the remotest corners of the country and experiencing the warm and hospitable culture of the native people. A trip into the interior reaches of the country where you can follow the ancient foot trails which pass through scenic river banks, intricately terraced rice fields and explore deep forest ridges connecting picturesque hamlets and mountain villages. The Annapurna, Everest, Langtang, Mustang, Manaslu are the most popular trekking regions. For more adventures and scenic experience Kanchangunja, Dhaulagiri, Dolpo are among the most "rewarding" trekking experiences in Nepal.

Mountaineering

Nepal takes pride in its Himalayan range with 8 of the highest peaks in the world that rises above 8,000m including the highest in the world. Mt. Everest (8,848.86 m / 29,024 ft.) all within our boundaries. Ever since the country opened its theatre of mountaineering activities and the drama of success and failures has provided impetus to thousands of men and women to meet the ultimate challenge! Expeditions to most of the major peaks of Nepal must be booked well in advance with a detailed itinerary planned. With sufficient notice we can organize all necessary paperwork, quality human resources, essential gears, equipment and foodstuffs besides transportation and porters.

The mountains are not stadiums where I fulfill my ambitions; they are temples where I practice my religion.

Mountain Biking

Mountain biking in Nepal has been gaining much popularity among adventure enthusiasts from around the world over the past few years. Pedaling across fascinating mountain villages, nomadic settlements, high passes, rugged and tough mountain terrains, winding rivers, terraced rice fields, temples and monasteries where the majestic snow-capped Himalayan peaks stand as backdrops make mountain biking in Nepal an exceptionally inspiring activity for riders with any level of experience and fitness.

Motor Biking

Exploring the terrain of a land is best done on a motorcycle and Nepal is a country with innumerable types of terrain. For the past few years Nepal has become a popular destination for motorcyclists around the world as it offers views of the magnificent Himalayas, colorful and vibrant cultures, ancient temples and monasteries, jungle safari in search of the elusive tiger and more.

Photography and Filming

Take an insightful tour to Kathmandu's UNESCO World Heritage sites, stroll through ancient bazaars and medieval palace squares; explore ancient Newari villages which are living museums and shrines of the local deities. Explore Nepal's hill villages and experience the rural lifestyle and ethnic cultures of the Tamang and Gurung people. Visit Pokhara, a beautiful scenic lake town where nature is amplified with the views of majestic peaks, clean water lakes with boating and canoeing thrills at your service. Witness some natural wonders of nature in waterfalls and gorges and magical dawns that light up the sky and the snowy Himalayan spires in hues of the rising sun. Capture these magical vistas and wonderful landscapes in your camera. Yes, discover the wonders of Nepal – a country blessed with natural beauty and rich cultural history.

Alpine Climb

These are mini expeditions which involve trekking and climbing of small scale peaks. Nepal Mountaineering Association (NMA) has classified 33 peaks in Nepal as 'trekking peaks' ranging from 5,650-6,500m into Group A comprising 15 peaks and Group B comprising 18 peaks.

White Water Rafting

Cruise downs the gushing Himalayan streams or kayak over some of the highest graded white water for the excitement of a lifetime. Nepal white water rafting can be experienced as a short 1 day excursion, or in the style of an expedition where we walk in for two days and then paddle a distance of 150 km or more over a period of two weeks. Almost every trek or cultural tour in Nepal or Tibet can be rounded off with rafting or can be combined with a wildlife safari trip. Our river rafting trips are designed perfectly for novices and families to ultimate thrill-seekers.

Wildlife Safari Tour

Nepal has 12 National Parks, 1 Wildlife Reserve and 6 Conservation Areas: Chitwan National Park, Sagarmatha National Park, Annapurna Conservation Area, Langtang National Park, Bardiya National Park, Rara National Park, Khaptad National Park, Shukla Phanta Wildlife, Shey Phoksundo National Park, Dhorpatan Hunting Reserve, Kosi Tappu Wildlife Reserve, Parsa Wildlife Reserve.

Heli Tour

This experience gives you an exclusive opportunity to bask in the splendors of nature and experience Nepal's dotted travel destinations from the comfort of a helicopter. You get to feast on the awesome vistas of snow-capped peaks, glaciated passes, quaint village settlements and panoramic landscapes. From aerial sightseeing to Heli trek, we offer you unforgettable travel experiences.

Retreats & Yoga

Nepal provides the solitude and environment for meditation which is unparalleled in this part of the world. Nepal has much to offer to those interested in meditation, yoga and ayurveda. There are guided and residential courses for meditation and yoga. Kathmandu and Pokhara in particular, is where most of these activities happen. If a single class or a few classes is not enough, why don't you go in depth? Yoga courses and workshops, retreats or Yoga treks can follow yoga courses and classes at the several studios in Kathmandu valley!

Ayurveda is a Sanskrit word and it consists of two different words; Ayu and Veda. Ayu means life and Veda means knowledge. Thus it indicates 'The knowledge of Life'. It is not only the science of diseases, but it also deals with life. Life is known as 'The union of the mind, body and spirit'. Ayurveda gives us the formulas for living a long life filled with happiness and joy. Ayurveda is not limited to the physical body. It also deals with the mental, emotional and spiritual aspects of life. The packages focus primarily on providing you with a glimpse of the Ayurveda knowledge of self-care and touch.

Asiatic roads are experienced in organizing different kinds of Yoga retreats tours in different parts of the country along with qualified and experienced Yoga instructors.

The Kingdom of Bhutan best known to the world "Last Shangri La" has a rare combination of harmony amidst a landscape of incredible beauty of the mighty Himalaya from the rest of the world enriched by the essence of Drukpa Kagyu School of Buddhism. Bhutan managed to remain shrouded in a jealously guarded isolation for a long time but has since gently opened its door to visitors who respect the delicate sensitivities of the pristine land and the sacred values of its people. The teachings of Mahayana Buddhism are the living faith of Bhutanese people and the religious sites and institutions are the daily home of its people. Along with this rich cultural heritage its rich Himalayan flora and fauna dazzling white peaks and the lush green valleys provide Bhutan's stunning beauty and aesthetic grandeur.

There are few luxury properties in Bhutan such as Aman Kora, Six Senses international chain hotels. For the dates of big festivals in Bhutan the hotel reservations and air tickets have to be made well in advance (up to 9 months prior to the arrival).

Festival Tours

Tshechu is a religious festival meaning “tenth day” held annually in various temples, monasteries and dzongs throughout the country corresponding to the birthday of Guru Rimpoche (Guru Padmasambhava). However the exact month of the Tshechu varies from place to place and temple to temple.

Tshechus are grand events where entire communities come together to witness religious mask dances, receive blessings and socialize. In addition to the mask dances, Tshechus also include colorful Bhutanese dances and other forms of entertainment.

Every mask dance performed during a Tshechu has a special meaning or a story behind it and many are based on stories and incidents from as long ago as the 8th century, during the life of Guru Padmasambhava. In monasteries, the mask dances are performed by monks and in remote villages, they are performed jointly by monks and village men.

Two of the most popular Tshechus in the country are the Paro Tshechu and Thimphu Tshechu in terms of participation and audience. Besides locals, many tourists from across the world are attracted to these unique, colorful and exciting displays of traditional culture.

Nature And Cultural Excursions

Usually sightseeing includes Paro – the airport city and gate to Bhutan - with trekking to famous monastery Tiger’s Nest, Thimphu – capital of Bhutan, Punakha with its astonishing beautiful Dzong – former Bhutan capital, and Phobjikha Valley with medieval monastery and nesting black necked cranes. In case of deep diving, guests may proceed to remote Trongsa and Bumtang Valley.

Trekking & Hiking

Explore what truly sets Bhutan apart from anywhere else and discover one of the most remote kingdoms on earth. Whether you are looking for a day hike or a grueling 31-day adventure, Bhutan has it all. Pristine mountain lakes, imposing glaciers and some of the world's most endangered species await you in the mountainous amphitheater of the Himalaya. Some of the famous trekking trails in Bhutan are Druk Path Trek, Dagala Thousand Lakes Trek, Jomolhari Laya Gasa Trek, Snowman Trek etc.

Wellness & Leisure

Bhutan has many activities available for those visitors seeking a place of solace, rest and recuperation. Whether it's a session of peaceful, contemplative meditation, soaked in a mineral hot spring bath or the all-natural remedies of traditional medicine, Bhutan has just what you need to revive and rejuvenate your body and spirit!

Tibet

The Roof of the World!!

Tibet is the magical mystical land of ancient Bon Buddhist religion and awesome landscape dotted with monasteries and centuries old caravan trails. Known as "Roof of the World" the high-altitude Autonomous Region of China lies in the plateau at an average elevation of 4,000 m.

Tibet was opened for tourists in 1985 AD. Before this it avoided outside influence and developed its unique culture and religion independently. Extreme, remote, and isolated behind the formidable Himalaya, the world's highest mountain range Tibet is a fascinating world of timeless splendor, unique traditions and breathtaking scenery, which awaits all travelers.

Key Tour Information:

- ◆ Guests need special permits for Tibet besides the mainland Chinese visa
- ◆ Tibet can be suddenly closed by China without issuing a prior notice
- ◆ Capital of Tibet – Lhasa
- ◆ Main season – May to October
- ◆ High altitude, average altitude of travel is 3,600 to 4,500 meters
- ◆ Land border crossing from Nepal
- ◆ Chinese visa and permit can be obtained in Kathmandu in most of the cases which will take around 2 to 3 working days
- ◆ Time zone – GMT +8
- ◆ Languages: Tibetan, Chinese, English
- ◆ Religion: Tibetan Buddhism
- ◆ Major tourist places and attractions: Capital - Lhasa, Shigatse, Gyantse, Northern Everest Base Camp, Mount Kailash, Lake Manasarovar, Lake Namtso, etc.

5

TOPS TO-DO - TIBET

- ◆ Witness the prostrating pilgrims in Jokhang Temple in Lhasa.
- ◆ Visit Potala palace, the former Dalai-lama palace in Lhasa with more than 1000 rooms.
- ◆ Make the Kora around Kailash, sacred mountain for 4 religions – Hindu, Buddhist, Jains and Bon.
- ◆ Have a Holy bath in a sacred Manasarovar lake .
- ◆ Participate on an overland Journey to Rongbuk Monastery to witness close view of Mt. Everest which is also known as “Qomolangma” by Tibetans, meaning “Mother Goddess”.

Nature And Cultural Excursions

Since the spiritual leaders governed Tibet, monasteries and religious institutions were the backbone of power so the importance and prestige were shown by the size and magnificent architecture of these buildings. Tibetan Buddhism contains many elements of their older religion, "Bon Po" which worshipped the sky, moon, sun, fire, soil and even evil spirits and this is why a monastery such as Tashilhumpo contains thousands of unique statues, paintings (Thangka), religious and historical books that to visit it in detail would take weeks. Pilgrims till today often travel long distances to have their wishes fulfilled and crowd the monasteries which shows that religion still holds a very important place in their daily lives.

Mt. Kailash & Lake Manasarovar

Pilgrimage to Mt. Kailash and Lake Manasarovar, are considered to be the most sacred by Hindus, Buddhists, Jains and Bonpos. Mt. Kailash is known as Khang Rinpoche "Jewel of Snow" by Tibetans, they consider it as the "Naval of the world". For Buddhists, Mt. Kailash is the "Abode of Arhats" (those who have attained paradise). Bonpos consider Shanrab their founder, descended from the heavens on this mountain. The Hindus consider Mt. Kailash as the "Center of the universe" and the abode of Lord Shiva and Parvati. South of Mt. Kailash, at the base of Mt. Gurla Mandhata, there are the two lakes: Lake Manasarovar and Rakshas Tal. Rakshas Tal, the smaller lake, is considered to be inauspicious while Manasarovar is considered to be most sacred and worthy of salvation. Hindus believe that Gods descend down from heaven to take a bath in this holy lake. Buddhists believe that Queen Maya took a bath in this holy lake before giving birth to Lord Buddha. The glaciers of Mt. Kailash and Mt. Gurla Mandhata feed both these lakes. It is also believed that the three major rivers Brahmaputra, Sutlej and Indus are fed from Lake Manasarovar. Lake Manasarovar (4,727 m. / 15,510 ft.) is the highest fresh – water body in the world.

Since ages many hermits and pilgrims have been undertaking journeys to this sacred and the holiest of all Mt. Kailash and Lake Manasarovar, because of their religious and mythological importance. Mt. Kailash and Lake Manasarovar are situated in southern Tibet aptly known as the "Roof of the World". The altitudes on which we travel are a minimum 4,500 m for most of the days. The Circumambulation (Parikarma / Kora) around the Mt. Kailash is a 3 days trek, taking us over a 6~8 hrs. each day. This strenuous but stupendous journey to sacred Mt. Kailash and Lake Manasarovar, create an everlasting impression on the human mind.

Mountain Biking

The rising interest on Mountain Biking Trips over the Himalaya for last couple of years, has given birth to itinerary named as Trans-Himalayan Mountain Biking Adventure, which traverses a distance over more than 1,100 kilometers from Lhasa the Capital of Tibet to Kathmandu in the heart of Nepal. This trip has been made more adventurous and at the same time challenging, by incorporating a four day round trip away from the main Lhasa - Kathmandu road, to visit Rongbuk Monastery and the North Base Camp area of Mt. Everest.

There are 6 major Passes to be negotiated on the main Lhasa to Kathmandu route as it runs westwards, parallel to the Great Himalaya Chain which forms the border with the territories of Bhutan, Sikkim and Nepal to the South. Throughout, the road traverses a high and dry plateau-land, which is punctuated by the spectacular monastery towns of Gyantse, Shigatse and Shegar, and also by several smaller settlements and nomadic Drogpa encampments. On the detour away from the main route towards the Rongbuk Monastery, the road climbs through almost fifty hairpin bends to reach the Pang La, which affords splendid views of the arrayed Himalaya, and of Mt. Everest itself.

Mountaineering

Mountaineering and expeditions in Tibet are challenging and more adventurous than expected. When Chinese and Tibetan Mountaineering Association started issuing permits for foreign mountaineers in the late 1970s, major mountains like Everest, Cho Oyo, Shisha Pangma, Lakpa Ri, Gura Mandata and many others became popular among the international mountaineers. The ground transportation access to the base camp of major peaks made Tibet more attractive for mountaineering and climbing.

Asiatic Roads provides all logistical arrangements along with legal and official permits, trekking and climbing guides, cooks, climbing staff team, gears and equipment and ground transportation.

Motor Biking

This tour starts in Nepal and takes you on an exhilarating ride over the roof of the world through the Tibetan Plateau. Tibet and Nepal offer adventure riders a fantastic experience – including adventure, cultural and scenic.

This journey begins riding through the hustle and bustle of Kathmandu City and then scenic lush green agricultural countryside of Nepal via Langtang National Park to the base of the highest mountain in the world Mt. Everest and to the famed Potala Palace in Lhasa. This is probably the cultural highpoint and focus. This adventure journey offers you the stunning mountain views, vibrant Tibetan cultures, great roads, busy city markets and remote villages' en-route.

Once a year go someplace you've never been before.

Incredible India

One of the oldest civilizations in the world, India is a mosaic of multicultural experiences. With a rich heritage and myriad of attractions, the country is among the most popular tourist destinations in the world. It covers an area of 32, 87,263 sq. km, extending from the snow-covered Himalayan heights to the tropical rain forests of the south. As the 7th largest country in the world, India stands apart from the rest of Asia, marked off as it is by mountains and the sea, which give the country a distinct geographical entity.

Fringed by the great Himalaya in the north, it stretches southwards towards the Tropic of Cancer, tapering off into the Indian Ocean between the Bay of Bengal on the east and the Arabian Sea on the west. As you travel the expanse of the country, you are greeted by diverse nuances of cuisines, faiths, arts, crafts, music, nature, lands, tribes, and history and adventure sports. India has a mesmeric conflation of the old and the new. As the bustling old bazaars rub shoulders with swanky shopping malls, and majestic monuments accompany luxurious heritage hotels, the quintessential traveller can get the best of both worlds. Head to the mountains, enjoy a beach retreat or cruise through the golden Thar Desert, India has options galore for all.

Heritage & Art

A land resounding with the riches and glories of opulent dynasties, powerful rulers, flourishing civilizations and profound history, India has a splendid heritage that is reflected in its architecture, monuments, arts, crafts, cultures and even religions. While formidable forts, ancient temples and grand palaces testify of the grandeur of times gone by, the various museums and galleries scattered across the country act as inventories of India's seamless past. Such is the magnificence of the structures in the country that UNESCO has identified several of them as heritage sites.

The land where classical melodies merge seamlessly with a mesmerizing mosaic of exquisite paintings, ancient weaves and other handicrafts, divine dance forms, fascinating festivals and scintillating sculptures, India is a vibrant potpourri of arts and crafts. With each of its states and union territories bursting with ethnic flavors that multiply at every turn, the country sparkles with vitality and vivacity.

Be it the gorgeous and remarkably intricate Bidriware in Bidar or the beautiful pink-kissed Meenakari jewellery of Agra city, the roots of these crafts are embedded in various eras of history. While the premium heavy-weight silk Kanjeevaram Sarees of Kanchipuram found a humble beginning during the reign of the Pallava kings (275 CE to 897 CE), the Chikankari embroidery of Lucknow is said to be the endowment of Mughal empress, Nur Jahan, in the 17th century, who herself was a master of the craft.

To savour the nuances of India's diverse cultural palate, deep dive into some of the most awe-inspiring archives of the country's arts and crafts.

Luxury

Home to several royal dynasties that enjoyed an opulent and an ostentatious lifestyle, India is a land steeped in history. Over the years, age-old cultures, traditions, arts and practices have been blending seamlessly with modern comforts, culminating to tailor a regal experience for tourists who want to sample luxury. From its northernmost tip to its southernmost end, the country has a number of luxurious escapades that warrant a splurge. While spanning its eastern corner to the western coast, India offers luxe experiences galore — these range from rejuvenating beach getaways, luxurious oasis in the desert, jungle jaunts, and even glorious experiences on cruises and trains.

The diversity of a vast country like India is legendary, and even more notable is how the country's colorful culture is showcased beautifully through the lens of luxury. You may want to experience the gems of the jungle: why not do it in the forests as the regal Rajput royals did? You may want to take a journey through the interiors of the country: why not hop on board an elegant train for a ride to remember? You may want to tee off and relax: why not do it at some of the most scenic golf courses in the world? Whatever you desire from your vacation, India has the answer—one that's laced with panache!

India has consistently ranked high when it comes to some of the world's most regal getaways. Truly, the call of luxury is never too far, no matter which corner of the country you visit!

Nature & Wildlife

From hauntingly beautiful snowy escapades to lush forests and hills of rolling green, from the endless golden beaches to the sapphire and emerald lakes embedded in the landscape, the natural beauty of the Indian subcontinent is unparalleled. The unexplored terrains of the country leave one in awe of their breathtaking splendor. Moreover, the differences and contrasts of one region from another accentuate the appeal of these landscapes - be it the frigid cold deserts of Leh that call to the soul-searcher in you or the sun-drenched mystique desert dunes of Rajasthan that take you back to the times of royals. Starting from the snow-capped Himalayas in the north, traversing the deserts of Rajasthan, crossing the lush forests of Madhya Pradesh and then sailing in the expansive backwaters of Kerala, and finally diving into the pristine waters of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, the journey is full of adventure. India is a land boasting a diverse variety of flora and fauna, many national parks, wildlife sanctuaries, tiger reserves and biosphere reserves, which offer enchanting wildlife sightings. From hill stations and lakes to beaches, here are all the natural retreats to include in your itinerary while traveling from one end of the country to another.

Bangladesh

Life Happens Here!!

Bangladesh is a land of enormous beauty, hundreds of serpentine rivers, crystal clear water lakes, surrounded by ever green hills. However, this country remains unexplored among the South Asian countries. Bangladesh is also home to the world's largest mangrove forests preserved as World Heritage where in reside some of the last remaining populations of the Royal Bengal Tiger. With an abundance of sunshine, the world's longest natural sea beach, rich cultural heritage, relics of ancient Buddhist civilization and colorful tribal lives, Bangladesh offers a blend of adventure and exploration with comfort and relaxation to visitors.
